Subject: Offer of Employment — Customer Support Specialist

Dear {First Name},

Congratulations. Following the successful completion of your probationary period, we are pleased to formally offer you the position of Customer Support Specialist at Dial Expert Solutions.

Your performance during probation demonstrated the qualities we look for on the Customer Support team — composure under pressure, communication skills, and the ability to handle a wide range of customer needs with care and accuracy. We're proud to have you continue with us in this role.

Top performance	High volume, QA pass, clean behavior	~40,000 EGP
Top + ranked #1 call volume	Top performance + ranked #1 (with QA ≥85%)	~43,000 EGP

PERFORMANCE EXPECTATIONS

- Handle all generic customer inquiries professionally — payment date changes, account questions, file updates, program info, etc.
- Save IDP cancels live when possible — if the case can be handled with care, don't transfer to retention.
- Save NSF / Invalid Banking files live by rescheduling payment dates or updating banking info on the call.
- Maintain a QA score of 90%+ on call reviews (tonality, completeness, resolution, customer satisfaction).
- Maintain live pickup — calls answered when not on break or active call.
- Follow protocols for callbacks, email cases, and CRM tagging.

OTHER TERMS

- Employment is on standard terms as outlined in the Dial Expert employee handbook.
- Compensation structure is subject to review every 6 months based on company performance and operational needs.
- Manipulated or fraudulent saves (IDP or NSF/IB) will be reversed. Repeated occurrences may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.
- Confidentiality of customer data, scripts, and internal systems is required at all times during and after employment.

Misadherence & Deductions

The following consequences apply when behavior or performance falls outside the standards described in this offer. These are deducted from the variable pay components in the month they occur.

Unapproved Workday Absence

STANDARD

Trigger: Missing a scheduled work day for any unapproved or unverified reason.

Consequence: Double deduction (2x daily pay).

Unapproved Saturday Absence

STANDARD

Trigger: Missing a required Saturday for any unapproved or unverified reason.

Consequence: Double deduction (2x daily pay).

Live Call Avoidance

SERIOUS

Trigger: Verified pattern of not picking up live calls while available (not on break, not on an active call).

Consequence: 500 EGP deduction per verified case + forfeit of the Behavior Bonus for the month.

Fake IDP Save Submission

CRITICAL

Trigger: Submitting a customer as a retained IDP cancel when they were not clearly expressing intent to cancel.

Consequence: Forfeit of ALL commissions earned for the entire month.

What Counts As A Valid IDP Save

An IDP cancel save only counts toward your commission when it meets ALL of the criteria below. QA reviews these criteria before payout. Any save falling short is reversed.

Real cancel intent on the call

Customer expressed clear intent to cancel the program live on the call — not just a complaint, question, or vague concern. A frustrated customer asking about a fee is NOT an IDP cancel.

You handled it — no transfer to retention

You worked the case yourself and resolved it without escalating to the retention team. If retention had to take over, the save counts for them, not for you.

Customer wants to continue in the program

By the end of the call, the customer is committed to staying enrolled and continuing forward with the program.

Customer committed to the next payment

Customer confirms they will make their next scheduled payment as planned. No vague hesitation.

Customer leaves satisfied and happy

The resolution genuinely addresses the customer's concern. They are not pressured, talked over, or rushed off the line. They leave feeling heard and supported.

NSF / INVALID BANKING SAVES — WHAT COUNTS

An NSF/IB save counts when the customer's file is fixed live on the call — payment date rescheduled, banking info updated, or the issue otherwise resolved — and the customer confirms the new arrangement. QA-verified.
